Beautiful Framed Picture.

The Twice-a-Week Republic, of St. Louis, Mo., is giving away a beautifully framed picture, size 5 1/2 x 7 1/4 inches, to every one sending $1 for a year's subscription to their great semi-weekly paper and Farm Progress, a monthly agricultural paper published by The Republic.

This offer is open to both new and old subscribers. If you are taking the paper at present, send in your dollar and have your time marked up for one year and get one of these beautiful pictures without any extra cost.

The pictures are genuine works of art, done in nine colors. Two of them are heads of beautiful girls. One wears a black picture hat and has two roses pinned to her pink bodice. If this one is desired, order No. 10, "The Spring Girl," No. 11, or "The Summer Girl," wears a light brown picture hat, trimmed with light green. She also wears a white and green waist, with a bunch of very pretty flowers at her breast. The remaining picture, or No. 12, is a three-quarter length picture representing "The Winter Girl," with a long coat, boa about her neck and a muff.

The frames are made of rounded metal and are all black. To tell them from real ebony it would be necessary to take them from the wall for examination. The pictures and frames are neat and pretty enough to grace the walls of a millionaire's home. There is nothing cheap or shoddy looking about them. They cannot be duplicated in the retail stores for less than 50 cents. The best recommendation that we can give them is to say that if you are not thoroughly satisfied with your picture they will refund the money for your subscription and pay the postage for returning the picture to them.

FAILED TO WIN VOTES.

Great Speeches Have Not Always Had Effect Desired.

In eloquence and point no other speech in the whig convention in Baltimore in 1852 even remotely approached the one which Rufus Choate made for Webster, but Webster was never a serious factor in the balloting. In every one of the 53 ballots Fillmore and Scott had several times as many votes as Webster, and Scott carried off the candidacy. Robert G. Ingersoll's "Plumed Knight" speech, in which he said, "Like an armed warrior, like a plumed knight, James G. Blaine marched down the halls of the American congress and threw his shining lance full and fair against the brazen forehead of every defamer of his country and maligner of its honor," in the Cincinnati convention of 1876, gave Blaine a sobriquet which he carried to the end of his life, and it made Ingersoll famous.

But Hayes and not Blaine won the nomination. Conkling's Appomattox speech in the Chicago convention of 1880 in favor of Grant captivated the country at the moment and "swept the convention off its feet" (except the delegates). Garfield's in favor of Sherman in the same convention was scarcely inferior to Conkling's in point and power. Neither Grant nor Sherman received the nomination.

Garfield's speech for Sherman helped Garfield to get the nomination himself in the deadlock, although neither he nor anybody else at the opening of the convention had thought of him as a possibility. When Bryan made his "cross of gold" speech, which stamped the Chicago convention of 1896, he was not, ostensibly, talking for himself, nor did anybody in the convention think of him in connection with the candidacy at the time he got up there to speak. He entered that convention as a member of a contesting delegation and was unknown to the country at the time, though he had the presidential bee in his bonnet and was working for his own nomination all the time that he was in the convention.—Leslie's Weekly.

Facts Concerning Herring.

Some new facts concerning the herring are contained in the scientific section of the fishery board for Scotland. According to a paper by Dr. Wemyss Fulton, certain theories as to the growth and age of the fish which have been accepted for the last quarter of a century are not well founded. It now appears that the herring is a fish of slow growth, and is barely 2 1/2 inches in length when one year old. It does not reach maturity and spawn until five years old, and is then of an average length of 9 1/2 inches. Herrings over 12 inches long, like the large Loch Fyne fish, may be ten years old and more, and the large specimens that are occasionally caught, measuring from 14 to 15 inches, are probably over 15 years old, and may be 20. Investigations are in progress to discover the reason for the decline in the herring fishery of Loch Fyne in recent years. An interesting method which has been adopted to trace the migrations of the fish consists in marking some of them while in the seine net with a printed silk tag and setting them free. Over 500 have been thus marked, but, so far, only five have been caught again, and these were near the place of liberation.

Japan Developing China.

South China is being covered with Japanese educational appliances specially adapted for Chinese use—schoolbooks, maps, globes, anatomical and other charts—all helping to rescue the people from their ignorance. Every school teaches physical and military drill. In every town of any size, and often in villages, there are now schools with foreign fittings for teaching western learning. Large numbers of temples, often every temple except the city temple and the Confucian temple, are being converted into schools and colleges, while scholars in their semi-foreign dress are counted by thousands, says the London Times. English songs are sung to the music of a Japanese harmonium.

Strange Story of a Title Deed.

A remarkable story was told at the Easter vestry meeting at Wimborne Minster, Dorsetshire, according to the London Tribune.

It was stated that the document regarding the payment of 10s. 6d. yearly to a clergyman to preach a Good Friday sermon at Holt Chapel-of-Ease was missing from the parish chest until some time ago. This deed was recovered by the merest chance.

A sister of the vestry clerk bought a drum at Thame fair for her children, the toy being marked "Made in Germany." Subsequently the drum was broken and an examination of the parchment showed it to be the original title deed setting forth the conditions governing the payment for the Good Friday sermon.

Yellowstone Park.

The reservation known as the Yellowstone National Park, set apart for public uses by an act of congress passed in 1872, covers a tract of about 65 miles in length from north to south, and about 55 miles in width from east to west, lying chiefly in northwestern Wyoming and overlapping to a small extent the boundaries of Montana on the north and Idaho on the west. This gives an area of 3,312 square miles, a tract that is nearly the area of the states of Rhode Island and Delaware combined, and nearly half as large as the state of Massachusetts.

ONE MAN NOT PLEASED.

Orator's Compliment to Town Called Forth Warm Protest.

Two interesting stories are told of the late Gen. W. H. L. Barnes, of California. One concerns a campaign speech that the general made in Redding. Being a diplomat as well as an orator, Barnes, who had not been in Redding for a decade or more, sought to say something flattering about the town's growth. When he reached the filling in stage of his speech, he said: "I want to congratulate the citizens of Redding on the wonderful progress of their beautiful city. When I was last here, not many years ago, I had to put up at a ramshackle hotel, with poor accommodations and badly cooked food. What do I find to-day? A magnificent caravansary with a cuisine worthy of a metropolis." The compliment won applause, and after the meeting was over many of the auditors crowded to the platform to shake hands with the speaker. One old fellow, with a pioneer beard, waited patiently for his turn. When he reached the general he calmly put his hands behind him, shook his head angrily and blurted out: "All I want to say is that you're a white-headed old falsifier. I kept that hotel."

The other story deals with the special session of the legislature called to fill the vacancy caused by the failure of the solons of 1899 to elect a United States senator. Barnes wanted the honor, but the compromisers passed him by and picked out Thomas R. Bard, of Ventura. The night of Bard's election Gov. Gage was roused from his bed by a caller who refused to wait until morning. Gage opened the door and there stood Gen. Barnes. "Governor," said the general solemnly, "you called this session to fill a vacancy. Instead of filling a vacancy you have created one." And then without another word the general stalked away.

Girls Have More Liberty.

One idea in the mind of girls of today is that parents should not interfere with their goings and comings. Why it has come about is somewhat of a question, for there is really no less obligation on the part of parents to know a daughter's associates and the places she goes than there was on mothers concerning themselves a generation ago. A perfectly natural fact is that normal young people crave amusement, and if this is not provided at home it will assuredly be sought elsewhere. This is true of the girl who has nothing to do, as well as for her friend who has to work all day, and both will turn to recreation away from home if none is to be found there.—Chicago Daily News.

Fashions in Japan.

Fashions change in Japan most rapidly when they are the changing badge of wealth, and when social status ebbs and flows and people are known by what they wear. Among men the fashion of the hair, which had to do with the warrior's headgear, has gone wholly out of style. The man of official rank wears his clothes in foreign style as becoming modern tasks, though he returns to his native costume for his hours of ease. In the matter of hairdressing it is not only that certain styles belong to certain periods or ages, but may not be affected after some fixed date, but within the limits set by age there are variations according to fashion's whim.

Lizards Prey on Fish.

Jerry Thompson, of Howe township, Perry county, an experienced fisherman, says that the scarcity of fish in the Juniata river is not due so much to the baskets and nets as to the ugly black lizards. The river is said to be full of these reptiles and they live entirely on fish spawn and fish. Many of these lizards have been caught in nets and killed, and upon examination have been found to contain fish from one inch to six inches long. Whence they came is a mystery, but the damage they are doing, according to Mr. Thompson and other fishermen is no secret.—Philadelphia Record.

Famous Corps Disbanded.

The Bank of England Rifle Volunteer Corps, which was established in 1875, primarily for the defense of the bank premises, was by an order of the British war office recently disbanded, as the corps, which was maintained at the expense of the bank authorities, was not considered necessary. At night the bank premises are protected by a military guard. The corps has been under the command of Capt. H. S. Inman for nearly six years and out of the total strength of 85 officers and men 92 made themselves efficient. This was the only single company corps in Great Britain.

Long Beard to Be Sold.

A beard over 14 feet in length is shortly to come up for auction in London. The late owner, Amos Broadhurst, who died at Whaley Bridge a short time ago, was for several years, one of the "freaks" at Barnum & Bailey's and Wombwell's menageries. When not exhibiting his beard he used to wrap it up in tissue paper and coil it inside his waistcoat. His mustaches, when fully stretched were over two yards long. The sale has been authorized by the dead man's brother.

Her Shoes Too Comfortable.

"Why is Mabel so disagreeable to-day?"
"She's pouting because her new shoes don't fit."
"No?"
"No. They don't hurt her a bit."
